

Women of Canyon Express Opinions on Leading Problems of City

Women Express Interest in the Welfare Canyon

This week the men were put in the back seat and the women of Canyon spoke their piece on city improvement. Most of the female element of Canyon are very well satisfied with the city, but can definitely see room for improvement in a varied number of things ranging from a city park to methods of becoming a more friendly city of newcomers.

Canyon has grown in many ways in the past few years, many new houses have been built, many new citizens have been added to the growing population, and a great number of improvements have been made such as new paving, new water wells, added city equipment for street cleaning and other heavy work done by the city, a new city and county library building, which is in the process of being completed but still there are many things which the women of Canyon feel are vitaly needed. As to the method of obtaining some of these improvements, that is the men's job—after all they have the financial "know how!"

There was a park started here at one time, west of Neblett Hospital, on lots owned by the county. The Canyon Garden Club headed by Mrs. T. B. McCarter took as their project the planting of trees and flowers in the park. Mrs. McCarter personally tended the small park for quite some time, and it was definitely a beauty-spot in Canyon; however, because of very little enthusiasm and help from other citizens, Mrs. McCarter curtailed her work and the park grew up in weeds. Last year, Alfred Bellah purchased the lots from the county. Most small towns the size of Canyon, have some sort of city park, and it would certainly be a worthy project for some organization to sponsor.

A few years ago, a movement was started to establish some sort of supervised Youth Center here such as has been done in other places, to give the youth of the city a central place in which to have meetings, play games, to have their dances and other entertainments. This plan died a natural death after meeting opposition from a few groups; nevertheless, Canyon still needs an adequate Youth Center for its teen-age population, according to opinions voiced from some of the women citizens.

In answer to the question, "What is your main suggestion or suggestions for city improvement, from the woman's point of view?" Here are the women's viewpoints on city improvement:

Mrs. E. M. Turner: "On most things I think Canyon has most other little towns beat, but it has more flies than any other little town I've ever seen. I'm certainly for a garbage charge to improve the sanitary conditions."

Mrs. C. R. Flesher: "I certainly think the streets ought to be marked and the houses numbered so strangers could find their way around our town, and for our own use as well. Another thing, I think it was a shame we let the little park behind the hospital just grow up in weeds. It was such a pretty spot."

Mrs. A. B. Odom: "If the streets were marked, we and the strangers both could find our addresses."

Mrs. Amelia Warren: "Garbage disposal is one of the things we need most."

Mrs. G. E. Clark: "I believe that right now with our library building so near completion, the library board would certainly appreciate suggestions from citizens of Canyon and Randall County on how to obtain funds to operate the library on a full time basis."

Mrs. Clarence Stallings: "I'm pretty well satisfied with things as they are."

Mrs. Lorenzo Wirt: "We should have a visiting committee backed by the Chamber of Commerce and civic organizations, to greet the new residents when they move to Canyon—greet them with a welcoming pamphlet which introduces the business firms and churches and organizations. Then we won't have people who have lived here for two or three years say that they have never been asked anywhere. Other cities have this set-up and Canyon should be one of them."

Mrs. Gladys Haines: "Keep the streets and alleys clean, and if everyone would burn their trash when they put it out, papers would not be picked up by the wind and blown all over town."

Mrs. H. D. Curtis: "Yes, I certainly do have a suggestion. The prime need for this town is a nice city park. We need one very badly."

Mrs. Bill Patke: "There needs to be something done about the stray dogs. Some provision made for licensing dogs, and the ones which are not licensed should be picked up."

Mrs. Burney Slack: "Maybe it will take more clean-up campaigns, but we do need our alleys and streets cleaner, and more beautification of the homes."

Mrs. W. L. Rice: "One thing we need is a supervised recreation hall for teen-agers, so that they will have some place to go besides the show, and there should be some way we could establish a nice recreation center."

Mrs. Frank Hicks: "I would like to see some stop lights on the square!"

Mrs. Frank Barnhill: "Since Canyon is such a pretty town anyway, I'm surprised it doesn't have a city park. It is one of the few towns its size which doesn't, and I think a nice city park would be a definite improvement."

Mrs. Frank Kimbrough: "The streets need to be marked very badly. It is certainly difficult for people who are not familiar with the town to find the addresses."

Mrs. A. L. Grabbe: "It's a nice town and I'm enjoying it very much."

Mrs. Levi Cole: "There is a lack of interest in the library facilities, and citizens should show more interest in the library and in getting it into the new library building."

Mrs. Frieda Moore: "It would certainly be nice to have a city park and to get everyone to cut all the weeds on their vacant lots."

Mrs. Boyd Moore: "I have a dog and I like dogs, but I think there should be some provision made for rabies vaccination and issuing of dog licenses."

Mrs. T. H. Knighton: "We need a Newcomers Club to greet the new residents of the city and have them turned over to the right churches and clubs to get acquainted. This would make Canyon a more friendly town. The merchants might give gifts to new citizens, and the Chamber of Commerce could sponsor this club in cooperation with the merchants."

Mrs. Lang Hunter: "I think it's a mighty nice town, but I think the streets and alleys need to be kept cleaner."

Mrs. C. L. Joyner: "I think a city park is needed and a Youth Center for children and teen-agers, and it could be put over if all the citizens would back the movement."

Mrs. A. H. Prichard: "I think a centrally located city park for the children would be a grand improvement."

Mrs. J. B. Anthony: "One thing we need is a street scraper or something to get the ice off the streets."

Mrs. A. D. Prater: "Right now I'd say to do something to get the ice off the streets."

Mrs. Ellis A. Brown: "I've lived in several little towns, but I've never lived in any town I like as well as Canyon."

Street Markers Seem To Be the Greatest Demand

Mrs. Clay Cooper: "Since we have a new delivery man at the store, I have realized how very much we need to have our streets marked and houses numbered. Sometimes it's almost impossible to explain to someone where certain houses are located."

Mrs. Charles Upfold: "Something should be done to get the ice off the streets to keep people from falling."

Mrs. Clarence Thompson: "I think street markers are a definite need not only in Canyon but almost every city I've ever been in. And it would be a help to have them here."

Mrs. W. L. Phillips: "I'm satisfied with things as they are, and the people in Canyon are so friendly. However it would be a help if these streets could be drained when the snow begins melting."

Mrs. E. S. Trout: "I definitely think we need the garbage disposal improvement."

Three Freshmen of W. T. Killed in Crash

Truck Driver Is Held on Charge After Head-on

Three Freshmen of West Texas State College are dead as the result of a head-on collision Friday afternoon with a truck east of Amarillo. The driver of the truck is held on the charge of negligent homicide.

Weldon Eugene Basinger, 18, of Port Worth was killed instantly in the crash. Miss Patsy Hutson, 19, of Childress, died four hours following the crash. Dorman Williamson, 19, of Childress died Sunday night as the result of injuries.

Driver of the truck which plowed into the car bearing the three students was Calvin Seward of Dumas. It is charged that Seward was trying to pass a car on the highway when he ran into the car driven by Williamson. Visibility was low because of blowing snow.

The three students were going to their homes for the brief holiday, with Williamson at the wheel. He was caught in the wreck and pinned down until the wrecker from Amarillo extracted him about an hour after the crash. Both legs were broken, both hands were frozen in the near-zero weather while waiting for help, and he received many deep cuts on his face and body.

Both of the boys were members of the Freshman football team of West Texas State and were likely candidates for next year's team.

The body of Basinger was shipped to Port Worth for burial.

Miss Hutson was buried in Childress Sunday.

The body of Williamson was taken to Childress for burial Monday.

The accident was the most tragic that has occurred among West Texas State students in the 38 years' history of the college.

March of Dimes Drive Continues Quota Is $1,000

Instructions have been received from the National Headquarters of the N. F. I. P. by Mrs. C. O. Elkins, campaign director of the March of Dimes for Randall county, that the March of Dimes drive will be continued due to the bad weather all over the nation.

It has been almost impossible for clubs and committee workers to make any collections in the snow and ice, as a result, the goal for the March of Dimes this year in Randall county is falling way below the quota of $1,000. At the present time, there has been approximately $450 collected in Randall county.

The drive is being extended all over the United States, because the National Quota has not been met. If the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis is to meet its obligations during 1949, these quotas must be met!

Mrs. Elkins is urging every individual and every club to give their utmost in time and dimes in the next two weeks in order to assure Randall county of reaching its quota. The amount which has been collected so far is hardly half of the amount spent on polio patients in Randall county last year. Any future patients there might be in Randall county must not suffer from lack of funds because the people of the county did not meet their obligation in the March of Dimes Drive this year.

1948 was the worst polio year for some time, and of course everyone hopes this year will be lighter. Nevertheless, the National Foundation exhausted its funds last year and had to dip into the Research Fund to keep helping some of the patients. It is asking that dollars instead of dimes be contributed this year to carry on this most important work.

Send contributions to Mrs. C. O. Elkins, campaign director, put contributions in the March of Dimes jars located in every business establishment, or give your contribution to your local club chairman to be turned into the campaign director, but do contribute! Randall county's $1,000 quota must be met!

Two Women Broke Left Wrists in Fall on the Ice

Mrs. H. A. Brown fell on the ice at her home Saturday afternoon, breaking her left wrist. She had stepped out of the back door when she fell.

Mrs. C. R. Burrow returned from church Sunday morning and was knocking the snow from her shoes when she fell, breaking her left wrist, practically at the same place as Mrs. Brown's fracture.

Streets and sidewalks were covered with a glaze of ice over the week end which made walking very dangerous.

Amarillo Man Fined For Drunken Driving

George Thomas Pendley of Amarillo was arrested Sunday at the corner of Third Avenue and Highway 87 when his car rammed into another car. Little damage was done to the vehicles.

Pendley was run in for driving while intoxicated, and paid a fine of $50 and costs.

Record Moisture Set for Month January

5 Below Zero Was Registered Sunday Morning

Weather records fell in Canyon as January passed out Monday night.

The largest amount of moisture in several years fell during the month.

And the lowest temperature in many years was registered during the frigid period.

January has been uniformly cold, but the temperature Saturday night dipped to 5 degrees below zero at the local weather station.

The mercury rose to 10 degrees above zero Sunday night. At the same time, the mercury sagged to its lowest point in 50 years in Central and South Texas. Waco and Austin went to below zero, while San Antonio stood at zero, and Houston 10 above. The fruit and vegetable crop in the Valley was damaged by freeze and ice.

Snow fell in Canyon Wednesday night, which brought .35 of an inch of moisture. Snow again Friday night added .07 of an inch of moisture. This brought the total moisture for the month of January to 3.89 inches. This made the month one of the wettest Januaries in the history of the country.

A coating of ice formed over the Panhandle as the moisture fell, alternating between sleet and rain and snow. Very little melting took place between Wednesday of last week and Tuesday of this week when the temperature rose to take off a little ice.

Throughout the cold wave school has continued in Canyon, and few meetings were postponed because of the cold weather.

15th Anniversary of Palo Duro State Park Observed

The Palo Duro State Park is 15 years old!

According to a report condensed by Fred A. Emory of Chicago from the weekly reports of the concessioners, the Park has been visited by 590,788 persons during the past 15 years. This is an average over the 15 year period of 39,385 persons. The largest attendance during the 15 year period was 52,314 in 1945; the lowest was 27,278 in 1942.

During this period a total of 153,033 cars have entered the Park.

Receipts for the 15 year period were $217,402.01. These receipts were distributed as follows:

Interest paid, $99,102.50
To Concessioners, $99,250.07
To State Parks Board, $19,049.85.

The concessioner pays all expenses, including his own salary, all help, all supplies and running expenses of the Park from his share.

The last session of the legislature authorized the State to issue $300,000 in bonds to pay off the debt against the land. A bill is now pending in this session of the legislature to appropriate funds to pay off these bonds in order that the State Highway Commission will take over the roads in the Park and keep them in good condition.

Grain Sorghum Crop of Randall County Brought More Cash in 1948 Than the Wheat Crop For the Year

Over 12,000,000 pounds of the 1948 crop of grain sorghum has been placed in the Commodity Credit Corporation loans up to the end of January. The price support program for sorghum grains of the 1948 crop is open until the end of February, according to W. H. Upchurch, Administrative Officer for the Randall County Agricultural Conservation Association.

The total value of the grain securing these loans is $298,606.77. From this total about $25,000 of freight and handling charges have been paid by the growers.

The grain sorghum loan program has already exceeded the wheat loan program for 1948 in the volume of grain involved. In addition to the 12,000,000 pounds of grain sorghum in price support loans about two million pounds is protected by Purchase Certificates, in which Commodity Credit Corporation agrees to purchase the grain at the loan price in case the market does not equal the loan price by April 30.

The wheat loan program closed December 31 with 153,271 bushels of wheat under loan with a value of $307,268. This is about one-fourth of the total 1948 crop for the county.

If the same percentage of grain sorghum is under loans it would indicate a total crop for sale of about 50 million pounds worth about $1,140,000.

Poll Tax Payments Drop to Low For Past Three Years

Mr. Warwick has worked with the Chamber for the past 38 years and urges the hearty support of every citizen of Canyon during the coming year. "This is your organization. The funds of the organization are limited to the contribution of the citizens of Randall county. We urge that citizens make their wishes known during the coming year, and your officers and directors will try to carry out your wishes. Your Chamber cannot succeed, or accomplish much unless the citizenship backs the projects which are recommended to it. Citizens of Randall county should feel free to make known to the directors their wishes and demands. But please keep in mind the fact that the finances of the Chamber are limited, and therefore its work must be confined to strictly Chamber of Commerce activities," stated Warwick.

D. E. Lowes, Ray Campbell and T. S. Stevenson will serve on the membership committee for the coming year. An active campaign will be put on for new members, and it is hoped that all business and professional men and women of Canyon will make regular contributions to the work of promoting the up-building of Canyon.

Socialism On Its Way to Our Great American Nation

A prominent citizen predicted the other day that in ten years America would be a Socialistic nation. Why ten years? Why not 1949? We are traveling toward socialism at a break neck speed. We say that we are fighting the commies, but we are going the route of socialism.

Perhaps we shall never have socialism in its worst in America, but it is coming more rapidly than most of us realize.

There are millions and millions of people in the nation who believe that the government can and should do anything and everything for them.

They haven't the slightest idea about doing anything for the government. They have the idea that the government should take care of them from the cradle to the grave. And the government is darned near doing that very same thing.

Just look over the bills which are introduced in Congress; at the bills which are introduced in the Texas legislature. Socialism is sticking out of hundreds of these bills.

World Peace Died 25 Years Ago In Passing of Woodrow Wilson

Woodrow Wilson died 25 years ago this week. His heart was broken when he realized that America had turned to isolationism and would not support his plea for a League of Nations.

Since Wilson's death another great war has been fought. America is head over heels in debt. A third world war is said to be in the making. Those who should have learned that war does not pay are slowly strangling the United Nations out of existence.

What fools we be; what might have been saved for humanity had the world listened to Woodrow Wilson 27 years ago.

Landlords On the Wrong Track

We are very much in sympathy with the landlords who are being refused increased rents, and are making a losing fight against rent control. But we doubt if the Tulsa property owners are taking the right steps by evicting 600 families and closing their property to renters.

These families are not to blame for the governmental action of sticking its nose into the rent situation. The government is seeking to protect the renters against unscrupulous landlords who would take advantage of critical situations throughout the nation.

Eviction of 600 families at a time when housing cannot be secured will not solve the situation. It will not set well with the public, and will make Congress more determined to continue rent control.

Court Action Delays Funds

We are still wondering. Several weeks ago the reader may recall that we printed the statement on this page that from good authority we had information that friends of Texas Tech would keep its suit against the adoption of the constitutional amendment in court long enough to attempt to get through another amendment seeking to void the one adopted in 1947, and to replace it with one which would give Tech a slice of the University of Texas oil funds.

Tech has lost every step in court. But appeals keep the issue alive and keep the other colleges from starting their much needed building program.

Yes, we are still wondering.

Another Great Man Forgotten

If you think you are very important to this old world's welfare and the folks just could not get along without you, just turn to Boyce House's article in this issue of The News. Will Rogers, the immortal Will Rogers, has been dead only 15 years, yet youth of today never heard of Will Rogers.

But they sure have heard of all the useless and silly things which are going on in the world of today.

Members of the Texas legislature are not to be blamed for wanting more money. But the House was in session for three weeks before any work was done; which does not set well with the public. The Speaker should be able to make up his committee list in much less time. We recall that 20 years ago the stock phrases was in the legislature regarding state employees: "If they do not like their job or their pay, let 'em resign; others will take their place." The same is not true of legislators. There are always many misfits who think they would be ideal lawmakers. And they would be elected to the jobs unless qualified members were in the race.

The weekly treat for the Newsman is to go over the old files of 25 years ago and pick out items for the day's publication in which readers of today may be interested. We are told by those who lived here 25 years ago that this is one of the most interesting features of the paper for them. To other—the vast part of whom come from other parts—we sometimes wonder if it is not a voice from the far, hidden and forgotten past.

Many Americans cannot understand why the administration cannot make up its mind on a stable foreign policy. It has changed fronts so many times that no one can foresee today what will take place tomorrow. America came in for severe criticism the other day in London because of this constant changing. The same thought has been expressed by many Americans.

Coming at a time of high prices, the loss of cattle and sheep in the stock raising section of the Rocky Mountains will have a serious effect on the future price of meat. That will be another blow to the cost of living.

The commies in New York are trying to hide behind the constitutional rights of free speech and free action, while attempting to deny the constitutional rights of trial by jury. Poor constitution that won't work both ways.

The air force shows that our big planes are good for something other than killing enemies. In Germany the big planes haul food to people; while in this country the planes are saving thousands of starving cattle and sheep.

Russia has disclaimed any part of the commie war in China—other than furnishing the commies leaders and munitions, and financial backing. Some of these days Russia's part in China war will be adequately exposed.

Amarillo Veterans Hospital Gets Into an Investigation

We don't know one single thing about the fracas which is going on at the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo. It is charged that one or more of the brass up there refused entrance to the hospital of a young ex-marine who died in three days after he was refused admission. Several groups are trying to investigate and get to the bottom of the deal.

We wish them success. But we call your attention to the fact that if the charges are true that you have an example of socialized medicine right in our midst.

If the charges are true you have the opportunity of seeing socialized medicine at its worst, and a form of practice that will be in general vogue throughout the nation if Congressional leaders get their way.

We do know of another ex-service man who has tried for several years to get medical assistance in that hospital. He was wounded in France and spent several months in the hospital in 1918.

Can he get the attention of the brass hats at the Veterans Hospital? No, indeed. Yet veterans of Randall county are going there for treatment almost at will, and are being treated for all kinds of ailments, whether the direct result of the war or not.

If the government wants socialized medicine, it is doing a mighty poor job of convincing the people of this section that treatment of ex-service men at the Amarillo Hospital is such an attractive means.

Opportunity to Cultivate Friendship of New Citizens

Many Randall county folks were amazed to see a report in last week's paper of the comparative population of South Amarillo and Canyon.

After all, why shouldn't Amarillo folks move into Randall county? The territory south of Amarillo offers the best building opportunities of any surrounding Amarillo.

Randall county is a good place in which to live. It is clearly shown that thousands of Amarillo folks are taking advantage of the opportunities which are offered in this county.

Canyon should cultivate the friendship of those who are moving into this good county, and urge them to become good citizens of a splendid community.

Big Show Hurt the President

The strictly party boys who rushed up to Washington to see the President inaugurated are becoming more and more peeved the longer they are back home and think of the treatment they received.

The Army and Navy and brass hats of the nation were given choice places in the President's parade. The boys who got out and worked for the party throughout the campaign were shoved to the rear.

At the reception of the chosen few, the President met only the big-wigs; the rank and file were shunted to one side. Maybe the President had nothing to do about the plans. He was too busy enjoying the big show which the Republicans of the 80th Congress had provided for "President" Dewey. When election plans misfired, the inaugural committee probably took over and made all plans. But the President is getting cussed for the manner in which the parade and reception were handled.

Your Car Is Due Taxation

We see that tax collectors over the state are up in arms about the prevailing tax evasion of automobile owners. Many folks argue that when they buy their license tags that their obligations end on taxes.

Not so! Your tag is only a permit to use the highways of Texas.

You still owe property taxes to the state and county, to the school district in which you live, and to the city in which you live. We checked up the other day to find that a lot of good folks were evading these taxes, purposely, or through ignorance of the law.

After all, automobiles are an expensive luxury in the home of any family.

Open Saloon Is Liquor Demand

If the liquor interests of Texas do not watch their step they are going to be outlawed in the near future. Every investigation proves that liquor is at the bottom of most of the cussedness of men and women today. The grand jury of Potter county took the hide off of the liquor interests; but it is brazenly advocating the open saloon for Texas.

The so-called fair practice bill is again in the Texas legislature. That bill has been introduced and kicked around down at Austin for the past 20 years. Back of the bill is the desire of small merchants to put the lid on prices so that chain stores and big independents cannot advertise loss-leaders. It is part of a scheme to control every phase of business by law. Personally we believe that it is a pretty poor piece of legislation which would cost too much to enforce.

Senator Grady Hazlewood of this district and this county predicts that no action will be taken this session of the legislature on redistricting. The federal census will give accurate census figures in 1950. But Senator Grady further predicts that the legislature will do its job in 1951 and not allow the constitutionally named commission to perform this duty. Grady will be in the Senate in 1951 to look after the interests of West Texas.

The 1949 wheat crop got off to a poor start in the fall, but the record January moisture is sure going to make a vast difference to the wheat outlook for 1949. While we all rejoice at the splendid outlook, let's not become over optimistic. During the past 38 years we have observed that wheat crops are not "made" until the wheat is harvested and the money in the bank.

The manner in which President Truman openly rebuked his political opponents at his inauguration may have pleased the big-wigs of the Democratic party, but it didn't particularly set well with the people who saw what was going on. The President even ignored big Jim Farley, who was strong for Roosevelt until the long haired reformers took charge of the Roosevelt administration.

We see that the barbers of Texas seek to put a floor under prices and have the state regulate out of business those who refuse prices set by law. This is just another step toward socialism. The lawyers, dentists, opticians, and a herd of other professions are under the socialistic laws of Texas, so the barbers want to get under cover.

We pity the poor football coach. He must produce a winning team, or get fired. The public does not understand that in every game only one team can win.

Hoover Report on the Federal Setup Is Critical of Present Methods of Handling Finances, Departments

Of the many reports on governmental reorganization prepared by the Hoover Commission, that on the National Security Organization, made by a subcommittee headed by Ferdinand Eberstadt, ranks high in importance. It is clear that a very large part of future national budgets will continue to be devoted to security measures. It is equally clear, as the report emphasizes, that we are still a long way from a sound basis on which to build a defense establishment.

The report observes that the objective of a perfectly efficient and economical security system is extremely difficult to attain. It says: "The completely efficient security system will not be economical. The completely economical security system will not be militarily efficient. . . . In an effort to be completely secure, the nation might turn itself into a military state; even so, there is no such thing as 'absolute' security, and the attempt to attain it by this means could lead only to disaster." It goes on to point out that "civilian control over military affairs involves some cumbersome and dilatory procedures and may even lead to serious technical mistakes; yet military power freed from civilian control would lead to even more serious mistakes—perhaps irreparable ones."

The committee adopted certain basic criteria as a guide to its study. Among the most important are these: 1. The primary objective of the national security organization is to preserve the peace, but it must at all times be ready to marshal all the human and material resources of the country for defense. 2. Civilian influence in formulating national policy and in controlling the military establishment must be dominant. 3. The nation is entitled to the maximum possible return for every dollar spent. 4. Wasteful duplication should be eliminated, but the preservation of a competitive spirit and of service pride and tradition are basic to progress and morale.

The committee is most critical of the services' handling of money. It began with the statement that, "The costs of the military establishments—currently about $15,000,000,000 a year—appear to be unduly high, in terms both of the ability of the economy to sustain them and of the actual return in military strength and effective national security." It goes on to say, "The committee failed to find in the military establishment a sense of cost consciousness or a general realization of the vital importance to our national security of utmost conservation of our resources. . . . There must be a will to eradicate waste; the first step is to instill, through education and leadership, a strong conviction throughout all ranks that waste is harmful to our national welfare." It points to the "awful cost" of the instruments of modern warfare—bombers run as high as $4,000,000 each; a single tank costs more than $250,000, and ships require expenditures of $10,000,000 to $150,000,000. It cites some illuminating examples of the lack of concern of the military mind with conservation. For instance, at the end of the war the Army believed it had about 25,000 tanks on hand. But it was able to find only 16,000 of these.

The report goes on, in considerable detail, to consider one phase after another of the complex security problem. It then lists "six major areas or aspects in which improvement in the interest of greater efficiency and economy is both possible and necessary." The six points run as follows: 1. Strengthening central authority in the military establishment—that is, giving the Secretary of Defense broader and more positive powers. 2. Overhauling the military budget. 3. Improving teamwork throughout the National Security Organization. 4. Relating scientific research and development more closely to strategic planning. 5. Expediting plans for civilian mobilization in case of war. This includes all economic, industrial and manpower resources. 6. Making adequate provision for—and against—new and unconventional means of warfare.

The committee also considered and rejected three more proposals which have been very widely debated. It is opposed to: 1. A single Military Chief of Staff and General Staff over all three services. 2. Merger of the three military departments into a single department. 3. Merger of the naval air arm with the Air Force. The fact that the committee turned these down is of unusual interest, in that all of them have been eloquently argued by men who believe that the total merger of the services is the ultimate goal. The committee is clearly of the opinion that service identification and esprit de corps should be maintained, and that the Navy requires air power of its own if it is to fulfill its essential security missions.

What the committee has done is to present Congress with a blueprint from which it may create a security establishment with a maximum of virtues and a minimum of vices. It points out that the National Security Act of 1947 "is a long step forward." Yet that act inevitably created certain fears and confusions. In some cases it seems to have intensified inter-service rivalries and jealousies. As the committee put it, "One of our greatest needs is to elevate military thinking to a plane above individual aims and ambitions." That is obviously a difficult matter, and it will not be done overnight. But, if the committee is right, it must eventually be achieved, and in as short a time as possible.

STOOD ON HIS DIGNITY

"Hi there," yelled the officer of the watch on the bow of the magnificent liner, "get that dirty little tub of yours out of the way."

The small man standing on the barge below stuck out his jaw aggressively.

"Are you the captain of that ship?" he demanded.

"No," returned the officer, puzzled.

"Then dashed well speak to your equals," snapped the little fellow. "I'm the captain of this one."

Agents of Premier Joseph Stalin are in China with orders to the Communists to keep on with the war until all of China is conquered. Moscow has become alarmed at signs of a split in the ranks of Chinese Communists, with a sizable group anxious to make peace now, compromise with the Nationalists, and to set up a Government somewhat independent of Moscow. Mr. Stalin appears to think this is no time to turn off the pressure on China.

Generals in the future are expected to take orders from the diplomats.

'Operation Haylift' Saves Snowbound Livestock

A big C-82 "Flying Boxcar" of the U. S. Air Force drops a bale of hay to stranded livestock near Ely, Nev. This was part of the "Operation Haylift," in which Air Force planes ferried feed to cattle and sheep ranches in Nevada, Colorado and Nebraska to help save 2,000,000 animals from starvation. Stockmen said the operation, which made use of wartime bombing techniques, was a greater success than they had dared hope.

"I haven't the slightest idea, sir." "Fine... Great... But remember to be brief, Jones. See if you can't say that in three thousand words."

AIR MAIL

Air mail volume for December broke all records, according to the Postoffice Department. Reports from the field indicate an increase of 40 per cent over December, 1947. More than 13,500,000 pounds were handled this year, as compared with 9,116,693 pounds in December, 1947. Much of the increase was attributed to air parcel post started last September.

U. S. Wives Rate Poorly Against Foreign Women

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—How does the American woman stack up in the international matrimonial derby?

If she had to compete for John Doe's affection—and wedding ring—with her sisters from other lands, would she emerge as a champion or a badly outclassed also ran?

More and more, authors, psychologists, sociologists and just mere men have been making uncomplimentary comparisons between America's women and those of other lands.

For instance, foreign correspondent Leland Stowe, on the basis of 20 years of travel on five continents, says that the American woman is neither all she thinks she is nor much that American men assume she is. Compared to her overseas sisters, she doesn't score as many top points as might be expected.

He draws up a lengthy indictment. Among other things, he says, American women have been accused of being the most spoiled, self-centered, aggressive, disinterested in men and homemaking, expensive, restless, rude, conversation hogging, unfeminine, individuality lacking unhappy and dissatisfied women in the world.

Are any or all of these things true? If they are, what is the reason?

These questions were directed in Philadelphia to a young French bride. Her answers are given below.

"American women should be the happiest in the world. They have more of the things that make life easy for a woman—refrigerators and washing machines and vacuum cleaners."

"Instead, they always seem to want more and more. In France women are happy with what they have."

"Perhaps that is why the United States keeps making progress—because its women want change. But it also means that American women always seem discontented."

So says Mrs. Marie Bonds, brown haired, brown eyed native of Biarritz, France, who came to this country to marry Ralph Bonds of Haverton, Pa.

Since that time she has accompanied her husband, a member of a brother team of organists, throughout New England, the east coast and the midwest, and has thus been able to observe American women in various settings.

"Why should American men prefer women of other nations?" Marie muses. "That is hard to say. After all, American women are attractive, much better informed than European women—they get more opportunity to get out of the house, to read and see things."

"However, the American woman's point of view is entirely different from, for instance, the French woman's."

"Take the matter of marriage. I believe we are more serious about it. From the time we are little girls, we are impressed with the idea that our most important duty is to look after our husbands and our children."

Japan's Baby Boom Zooms Population to 81 Million

TOKYO.—Japan's amazing post-war baby boom has even the statisticians gasping.

Abetted by a declining death rate, the bumper baby crop has helped up Japan's population to 80,800,000.

This is a population gain of eight million since Japan's surrender. Repatriation of Japanese soldiers and civilians from abroad accounted for slightly more than half the gain.

On the basis of present estimates by occupation experts, Japan has 568 persons per square mile.

Previously statisticians figured Japan would have a population of 80 million by 1950.

With that figure already exceeded by nearly one million, they now anticipate a population of 84 million by 1950, more than 90 million by 1955 and more than 100 million by 1970.

What has some Americans and Japanese thinking is that Japan is faced with a scarcity of everything—but babies.

Lion Claws Girl; She Forces It Into a Taxi

EAST LONDON, SO. AFRICA.—A three-year-old circus lion became restless while being led thru the main street in this coastal city of southeast Africa. Ray Walker, girl lion tamer, hitched its chain around a post and the beast walked around until it was pulled up tight. In terror it turned and clawed the girl.

Three men rushed in. One put his hand down the lion's throat, another tried to pull the lion off, and the third—an Indian—pulled the girl clear. Then the lion broke the post.

The girl, blood pouring from her wounds and forming a pool, turned and faced the beast. Slowly she forced it into a taxi! Then she took it to the circus grounds and a few hours later she and it appeared in their act as usual.

"SOFT SPOT"

There has been considerable evidence of what the economists call "soft spots" in the economy in the past several weeks. For the first time since the war there is said to be an abundant supply of key executives.

Pilgrims Make.—Cowley.

When wealth is lost, nothing is lost;

When health is lost, something is lost;

When character is lost, all is lost!

—Old Motto.

Nadrienne Boissevain, Dutch woman whose husband and two sons were killed by the Nazis: "Women throughout the centuries always pick up the pieces after wars and build anew."

The United Nations hasn't been very powerful in Palestine, Java, etc. and etc.

Blind Mechanic Sells His Skill To Townspeople

HOLTVILLE, ALA.—A blind man has the feel of this rural Alabama community.

He is 39-year-old Carson Dennison, and his talents as a mechanic, electrician, plumber and general repairman are so much in demand the folks around here say they wouldn't know what to do without him.

He started to take a war job once, but the neighbors howled so much he stayed home.

The feeling of being useful is what Dennison has struggled for since he was 18. That's when he lost his eyesight.

His dream of independence has paid off in the cash register. He'll tackle anything from patching up a wheezing jalopy to diving in Lake Jordan to see if a boathouse piling is put down right. But he turns down work every day because he has more than he can do.

Dennison doesn't consider his blindness a handicap, either. It's an asset. Take the time a customer brought in a typesetting machine so broken down nobody else would touch it.

"I couldn't see how bad it was," Dennison recalled, "so I fixed it."

Childhood Accident

"Carse" was only 6 when a playmate blasted his eyes with bird-shot. There were intervals of seeing again out of one eye, but when he was 18 the light went out for good.

Despondent, he suffered through one operation after another for five years. Then one day in a New Orleans hospital Dennison found a new light—from the inside.

"It's imagination," he says. "Most people talk about imagination so much they don't have a chance to think what it means."

Ignoring the advice of doctors, Dennison began to imagine he could be a mechanical engineer. He'd always wanted to be one.

"I didn't feel like I could stand a handout," Carse explained, looking up from the water gauge he was installing in a heating plant. "I wanted to do a job and send someone a bill and get paid like anyone else."

Works on Big Jobs

That's what he does. He finds time now and then to squeeze in small jobs, but most of his work lately goes into big projects, such as the heating systems he put in at Holtville high school and the grade school at near-by Eclectic.

Difficult wiring jobs don't bother him. The refrigeration unit he installed at the high school had 150 separate connections, but he got every one right.

When he takes on work like that, his wife reads the blueprints aloud and he memorizes them. Fellow workers help him figure out the color schemes that tell electricians which wires go where.

Once he got crossed up—a helper turned out to be color blind. But Carse connected the wires the way he thought they should go when he ran a test to see if they were right. They were.

Dennison likes to take on jobs that others have bungled or given up. Strangely, he says customers expect better workmanship from him than they do from others.

German Speaking Swiss Sensitive About Language

BASEL, SWITZERLAND.—German speaking Swiss are still extremely touchy about foreigners who look down their noses at them because they speak the same language Adolf Hitler and Heinrich Himmler spoke.

Recently, a Dutch lecturer who spoke good German, chose to deliver his speech to a German speaking Swiss audience here in English. The result of this "comedy," said the National Zeitung, was that practically nobody understood what he was saying since his English was very labored.

"We would like to recall to our Dutch friends," the newspaper said tartly, "that the Dutch language developed from the 'Dietsch' of the middle ages and the 'low German' of the 16th and 17th centuries and is approximately just as much and just as little German as our Swiss German dialect. For three million Swiss, high German is the school and written language, the most widely used of the four official languages of our country."

Food Minister Announces More Rations for British

LONDON.—Food Minister John Strachey gave the House of Commons its first good news about food since the war. He was cheered.

Strachey said jam and marmalade will come off the ration list. Other rations will be increased. The milk ration will go from two to two and one-half pints, cooking fat from one ounce for one person for 16 weeks to two ounces weekly per person each week for a period of 16 weeks and sugar from eight ounces a week to 10 ounces a week with more for preserving. The candy ration will rise from 12 ounces every four weeks to one pound. Cheaper types may be taken off the ration list in a few months.

Atomic Commission sets up tight security rules for workers.

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Un-Streamlined Model

OBJECT LESSON

The butcher was surprised when a slim young woman asked for 25 pounds of beef. All the same, he cut off the joint and put it on the scales.

"Will you take it with you or shall I send it to your home?" he asked. "Oh," she murmured, blushing prettily, "I don't want to buy it. You see, the doctor said I had lost 25 pounds, and I wanted to see what it looked like in a lump."

Even sudden peace could be deflationary—that is, agreement with the Russians would mean less armament and it would be difficult to make the adjustment quickly.—Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman, President's Council of Economic Advisers.

I fear we are losing democracy by default as a result of the relatively light vote in the November election. In 1896, 83 out of every 100 eligible voters went to the polls. In 1948, only 50.—Jennings Randolph, Capital Airlines executive.

WISDOM

"Uncle Joe," said Albert Edward Wiggam, the author, meeting an elderly negro who was always cheerful in spite of having had more than his share of trouble, "how have you managed to remain so cheerful and calm?"

"Well, I'll tell yo'," replied Joe. "I've learned to cooperate wid de inevitable."

Calling a man a "screwball" in Maryland is no worse than calling him a "souphead" in New Jersey. Legally the word "screwball" does not connote opprobrium or reprehensibility.—Judge Edward S. Delaplaine, Maryland Court of Appeals.

WEST TEXAS GAS COMPANY COMPLETED ALL 1948 PROJECTS ON SCHEDULE... 1949 EXPANSION PROGRAM IS STARTING

(Following are the projects which we reported to our customers in July, 1948, that we planned to complete in 1948.)

NEW FACILITIES TO BE INSTALLED ON PIPE LINE SYSTEM 1948

1. Near Turkey Creek Compressor Station will be installed a 300 horsepower booster compressor. Main plant is 2,350 horsepower.
2. At McSpadden Compressor Station: three more 400 horsepower compressors, increasing capacity to 2,850 horsepower.
3. At Plainview Compressor Station: one more 300 horsepower compressor, increasing capacity to 2,400 horsepower.
4. At Littlefield Compressor Station: one 80 horsepower compressor, to increase capacity to 330 horsepower.
5. Between Littlefield Compressor Station and Whitharral: nine miles of 6½-inch pipe will replace 3½-inch pipe.
6. From Littlefield to point of intersection with new El Paso Natural Gas Company line: ten and one-half miles of 8½-inch pipe will replace 4½-inch pipe.
7. At Tahoka Compressor Station: one more 300 horsepower compressor, to increase capacity to 780 horsepower.
8. Between Tahoka and Brownfield: ten miles of 6½-inch pipe will replace 4½-inch pipe.

TWO NEW SOURCES OF SUPPLY ARRANGED

We have signed an agreement with El Paso Natural Gas Company to purchase from that company at two points. Barring unforeseen contingencies, this gas, which will benefit all towns on our system, will be available by November 1, 1948.

1948 PROGRAM COST 2¼ MILLION

Last winter we experienced an unusually heavy demand on our gas system... a demand which briefly exceeded the capacity of our transmission facilities. At that time we told the people we serve that we would make every effort possible to correct this situation before the next winter.

Certain definite projects were required to increase capacity. Some had already been planned... others were added. We reported to our customers via the newspapers what projects we planned to carry out in 1948. In the panel at left is a re-listing of those 1948 projects.

We are happy to say all of the expansion and improvement projects so reported to our customers were actually completed during 1948... on schedule. West Texas Gas Company invested about $2,280,000 during the year in these improvements and additional facilities.

In November, we began purchasing substantial quantities of gas at Amherst and at Umberger from El Paso Natural Gas Company. These new supplies of gas will directly or indirectly benefit all towns served by us.

2¼ MILLION MORE IN 1949

Already our 1949 expansion program is beginning. Preliminary work is under way now for one important project. It is estimated that we will invest another $2,250,000 or more during 1949 in additional facilities and improvements. Thus, in the two years of 1948 and 1949 we will have invested about four and one-half million dollars in order that we may provide a dependable, efficient and economical gas service to our customers.

Not long ago, a man was talking to a group of youngsters and he said something about Will Rogers. Their faces became blank and at last one lad asked, "Who was Will Rogers?" None of them had ever heard of him.

Here was a man who was the No. 1 box office attraction of the movies; whose radio program was heard by millions and whose daily newspaper feature was read by nearly everybody and you heard his wisecracks repeated gleefully a dozen times a day. More than that, he seemed the personification of the American spirit. He was the most beloved man in the world when he died, everyone felt that a personal friend had been lost and countless cheeks were wet with tears.

His voice has been silent 15 years—and a new generation asks, "Who was Will Rogers?"

It is a pathetic commentary on the fleetness of fame.

Will Rogers said the most thrilling spot in Paris was the place where the American tourists went each day to see if their friends back home had cabled them any money.

Of the sidewalk cafes, he declared, "The saloons are so full, half the people can't get in—so they set them on the sidewalk."

And the Latin Quarter was named that because nobody living there spoke Latin or had a quarter.

He was not very enthusiastic about American tourists, who usually grumbled and boasted, "Real people in any country are the ones who stay home," he quipped.

Will said he didn't belong to any organized party—"I am a Democrat."

It snowed in Washington but you couldn't "see the ground for the lobbyists."

Mrs. Dionne, mother of the quintuplets "put maternity on a mass production basis."

When he was a boy, Will's father was putting up a fence and when he learned that their neighbor was a lawyer, he put two barbed wires on top of the fence!

Clement Attlee, Prime Minister in Britain's Socialist Government, is not to take a chance on maneuvering for a general election in 1949, but is to wait for the regular election time in May, 1950, to let the people decide whether or not they want a change. The idea is to remove some controls and give the people a little breather before the vote comes.

Why should we kill the best of passions, love
It aids the hero, bids ambition rise
To nobler height, inspires immortal deeds,
Even softens brutes, and adds a grace to virtue.—Thompson.

Lobbyists for Government departments are tending now to shoulder aside business lobbyists who were dominant in Congress during the last two years. With the White House and Congress under control of the same party, departments are sending their lobbyists back to try to get things that they want, after two years out of close touch with Congress.

Key members of Congress say privately that it is to be difficult to increase income taxes on persons earning more than $6,000 after Congress decided to give the President $50,000 of income, tax free, on the ground that a $150,000 salary wouldn't be big enough under existing tax laws.

John Snyder, Secretary of the Treasury, used highly optimistic estimates of taxable income and of sales of taxable goods in figuring the probable Government revenues for the 18 months ahead. Even a little slowing down in business would throw Treasury estimates off and send the Government substantially into the red.

President Truman, at the start of his new term, already has a warning that he lacks real control of the Democratic Senate. Mr. Truman, however, is refusing to worry about the rough going that lies ahead.

Advisory Board To Seek Funds for the Palo Duro Park

The Advisory Board of the Palo Duro State Park met in Amarillo Tuesday to plan a campaign for $300,000 to pay off the debt against the Palo Duro Park. The appropriation bill has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Grady Hazlewood, and will be introduced in the House by Representative Blake Timmons.

L. S. Johnston of Canyon, Berl Ellison of Hereford and Newton Harrell of Claude met with the Advisory Board.

It is planned to send a motion picture of the Palo Duro Park and a delegation to Austin when the bills are heard in committee.

Ivan L. Wiles, General Motors vice president, thinks passenger car production may hit 4 million this year (400,000 more than last year). He agrees with other experts that available family income can absorb 6 million new cars at today's prices.

LOAN CORN

Because of sagging market prices, farmers are expected to put more corn under Government price support this year than ever before, according to the Agriculture Department. In its first official estimate, the Department said price support loans on corn would be the highest since 1940 and might break the record of 302,000,000 bushels set that year.

On the Fifth Avenue bus, a lady passenger was making a pest of herself. Every five minutes she'd ask the conductor, "Have we come to Riverside Drive yet?" She was getting on his nerves, but he kept his temper. Finally, she cried, "How will I know when we come to Riverside Drive?" He couldn't resist that. "By the big smile on my face, lady, by the big smile on my face."

George Marshall, retiring Secretary of State, favored selection of Dean Acheson over Averell Harriman, U. S. roving ambassador for the Marshall Plan, as his successor. President Truman finds that his gamble on support of the state of Israel in Palestine has worked out to give U. S. a ten-strike in that part of the world. Military advisers of the President told him that U. S. was running into a policy disaster by supporting the Jewish state against the Arabs. The military thought the Arabs could overrun Palestine at will.

PARADOXICAL

Hostess: "How strange! And yet you don't seem to go."

Charles Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, is to go slowly in pushing a new plan for farm price supports that might become labeled an Administration plan. The strategy will be to let Congress try to figure out the level at which the U. S. Treasury should come to the support of farm prices.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, who tried to promote a bipartisan foreign policy, now finds that he has lost influence with some Republican Senators. Mr. Truman, when and if he needs Republican votes to get approval on issues of foreign policy, is to find Senator Vandenberg less able to round up those votes.

Visits Grandmother in Claude

Claborn Crain of Canyon, is visiting his Grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Hicks of Claude. Claborn is two and a half and has "pink" hair. He went to spend a few days in Claude because his daddy was in the hospital with strep throat, then to everyone's surprise he broke out with chicken-pox, so his visit has been prolonged for two weeks. The two snowstorms with their snowball possibilities have been a great temptation to a boy indoors.

Herbert Hilburn in Tribute to Work of Dr. D. A. Shirley

The following tribute was paid to Doug Shirley by his friend of many years, Herb S. Hilburn, editor of the Plainview Evening Herald:

SCHOOL MAN

A top flight school man of North-west Texas takes out.

He's Dr. D. A. Shirley, dean and senior member of the West Texas State faculty. He resigned because of poor health which has kept him from his desk since last October.

Doug Shirley is one of the greats in educational circles of the Southwest. He is one of the greats as a citizen of the immediate community in which he lives and of the greater community which West Texas State Teachers College serves. He is one of the greats among fine personalities which have influenced young life and enriched the lives of older persons within the broad circle of his acquaintance and influence.

With the Hereford Christian College and the Hereford Public Schools he made a name for himself as a fine teacher and a fine man. He taught physics at West Texas in 1913. Through the years he advanced in responsibility and in 1923 became registrar and was made dean in 1945. He was football coach when the school was young and was chairman of the athletic committee from its inception until this year.

It would take a lot of space to enumerate the civic organizations and movements with which Doug Shirley was associated. His honors and degrees are exemplary of those coming to a fine scholar, who works hard and earnestly at his profession of teacher. But those attainments are hardly comparable with the warmth of spirit of this fine, personable gentleman, who is admired and loved as a friend by hundreds upon hundreds of upstanding men and women of the Southwest.

Doug Shirley, gentleman and scholar, is a fine citizen. He was a real school man. Would we had more of them.

CONTROLS

Despite some dissatisfaction and criticism, the Government seems likely to stick to its rule requiring a one-third down payment in cash for automobile buyers, with the balance due within eighteen months when it is over $1,000 and in fifteen months when it is less. Officials believe the controls laid down by the Federal Reserve Board still are serving the purpose for which they were intended—putting a brake on inflation and holding back buying power which may be needed later.

SUPPLEMENTING WEBSTER'S

They were producing a Biblical film. One of the actors was having difficulty with the word "Lemuel." After a number of blow-ups, the producer gently offered his help. It's very simple—you pronounce it Lem-u-el . . . Lemuel . . . like in Berniel!

Hour of Work Buys More Food Than Past Hours

Are you one of the many people who are troubled by the high cost of food? If so, an analysis prepared by The National Industrial Conference Board will come as a surprise.

In 1948, twelve hours of work, by the average worker, would purchase a week's food for his family—whereas, in 1914, 30 hours of work was required. Putting it another way, the worker in 1914 had to spend about three-fifths of his total wages on food, while in 1948 one-third would take care of the grocery bill. In the last third of a century food costs have increased a little more than 150 per cent while hourly earnings have risen sixfold.

There are many reasons for this—notably the great increases in pay gained by labor. There is, however, one important factor which may be overlooked, and that is the enormous increase in efficiency registered by retailing. What is true of food is true to a greater or lesser extent of practically all the commodities we buy. There has been something resembling a retail revolution in the last decade or so. It was led by the chain systems, which pioneered the idea of cutting the profit earned on each sale to the bone, and still earning a satisfactory overall profit by increasing the volume of business. Other kinds of stores quickly adopted the same plan. The result is the store of today, with its extensive stocks, its attractive displays, its excellent standards of service, and prices which are as low as conditions permit.

Thus, retailing has made a very real contribution to American living standards. The proportion of income which most workers must spend for the basic necessities has gone down—and the proportion which may be used for savings, recreation, luxuries or anything else the worker desires, has gone up. It's the fashion these days to gripe about high prices—but the average man enjoys a great many more of the good things of life than he used to. Retailing has done much to bring that about.

Psychiatrists find divorce no cure for unhappy marriages.

Maybe you're the "slow" one!

Have you been a little slow about giving your engine the extra protection it needs for winter-weather driving?

It's easy to change now to winter-grade Conoco Nth Motor Oil and the extra protection of an engine that is OIL-PLATED!

Because free-flowing Conoco Nth actually fastens extra lubricant right to cylinder walls. This extra OIL-PLATING protects working parts from winter's grinding "dry-friction" starts . . . from metal-eating combustion acids . . . and from power-robbing sludge and carbon due to wear.

So stop trouble before it starts . . .

FROGS

The Smithsonian Institution announces that it has received a large collection of "fantastic frogs" from South America. Among the specimens are Peruvian frog that builds nests in trees overhanging stagnant water and also several of the so-called "tin pan frogs," which are conceded to be the noisiest member of the entire amphibian family—its croak sounding like beatings on tin pans. They came from Brazil.

ROBERT S. CALVERT

Austin: Robert S. Calvert, recently appointed by Governor Beauford H. Jester to fill out the unexpired term of the late George H. Sheppard as State Comptroller, has just about the most important job in Texas' state government.

As State Comptroller, it is Calvert's duty to supervise the collection of several hundred million dollars per year in taxes. He acts as the state's bookkeeper, and writes several million state checks every year in paying the debts of the state which amount to over four hundred million dollars per year.

Calvert knows his job—having been in the Comptroller's office for eighteen years as financial statistician from 1940 to 1944 and chief clerk until his elevation to his present position.

Governor Jester paid tribute to both George H. Sheppard and Calvert when he issued the following statement when he announced the appointment:

"I feel I can pay no higher tribute to the late beloved George H. Sheppard than to name as his successor his long time friend, trusted assistant and highly capable chief clerk, Bob Calvert.

"The office of Comptroller is one of the most important in our State government. Here we must have a man of absolute integrity who will conduct this office as a business office, which it is, rather than a political office, which it is not. There are many fine men in the State who could meet this exacting standard, but Mr. Calvert brings the added and valuable asset of experience in conducting the affairs of the Comptroller's Office as the right-hand man of the lamented and respected public servant, Mr. Sheppard.

"I know that in selecting Bob Calvert I am acting as Mr. Sheppard would have me act and in the manner that is best for the office and for the people of Texas. Mr. Calvert's own distinguished record of faithful public service bears out this judgment."

Robert S. Calvert was born in McLellan County April 27, 1892. He was educated in the public schools of Brownwood and Howard Payne College.

From 1911 until 1930, he lived at Sweetwater where he was employed by a railroad, a utility and the First National Bank.

In World War I, Calvert served in France and Germany with the Photo-Reconnaissance Air Service.

When George H. Sheppard was appointed State Comptroller in 1930, he brought Calvert to Austin with him to serve as financial statistician in that office.

Calvert married Miss Josie Moody of Sweetwater. They have one daughter, Josephine.

The new Comptroller is active in church, fraternal and civic affairs—being chairman of the Board of Deacons of the Central Christian Church of Austin; a member of the Masonic Lodge, Scottish Rite, Shrine; American Legion and Lions Club.

GASOLINE

Motor vehicles in this country set a record high for gasoline consumption in 1948, using 30,700,000,000 gallons in driving about 395,000,000,000 miles. Gasoline consumption in 1947 reached what was then a record high 28,217,000,000 gallons. Travel came to 370,000,000,000 miles.

DECISIONS

So far in the present session of the United States Supreme Court, which began three months ago, the justices have announced 27 decisions, only six of which were unanimous. In the remainder they split 5-3 eight times, 4-4 twice, 4-3 once, 8-1 twice, 7-2 once, 6-3 six times and 6-1 once.

ADVENTURE...

39th Anniversary
FEBRUARY 6 TO 12
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

In every part of the nation more than 2,200,000 boys and their adult leaders, will observe Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6th to 12th, marking the 39th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. The theme of the celebration is "Adventure—that's Scouting!" This year the movement is emphasizing the fun and fellowship its members get out of the game of Scouting. More high adventure is planned in the out-of-doors. Their adventure in citizenship will find Scouts emphasizing civic service activities, emergency service training and world Scouting relationships. During Boy Scout Week, Scouts, their parents and countless communities will honor the volunteer adult leaders of the nation's 70,000 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units. Above is the official poster marking the Scout birthday.

The five "Outlaws" got off to a flying start in their first league game in Amarillo, defeating the Maverick club in a fast game Saturday 45-20.

The Outlaw scoring attack was led by Harold Martin with 16 points and Philip Busted with 11 points. The Maverick high scorers were Jones with 8 points and Wardlow and Vaughn with 4 points each.

Canyon Eagles Bow Before Price, 37-28

Friday night the Eagles will tangle with Claude in the Canyon Grade School gym. Game time will be 6:30. Saturday the Eagles journey to Dalhart, and Monday night Dalhart will return the game with game time, also, at 6:30.

Last Tuesday night the Canyon Eagles and the Price College Cardinals clashed in a return game with Price coming out on the long end of the score, holding a 9 point margin.

The Cardinals, aided by Murdock's basket-splitting ability, took the lead in the first quarter, and remained there all during the game. The half-time score stood 22-10. In the third quarter Jerre Inman found the distance of the net and split it for 6 points which brought the Eagles up within 6 points of the Cardinals, who were leading 28-22 at the close of the third period.

Price couldn't be shaken loose from their lead and sank the leather covered bag 5 times in the final quarter for a total of 9 points. The Eagles added 6 tallies to their score but were unable to take the lead. The final score was 37-28.

Richard Walters led the Eagles in points with 8 to his credit. Jerre Inman and Joe Abbott each had 6, and Bruce Winn and Billy Cleavinger had 4 tallies to their total.

CHS Eaglettes Tip St. Mary's Cagers

In the Price College gym Tuesday, January 25, the Eaglettes added another victory to their list with their triumph over the St. Mary's sextette.

The Eagles outplayed their opponents throughout the whole period and at the end of the game, the score stood 30-17 in Canyon's favor.

Janey Forester made 10 points which gave her the high point spotlight. Bobby Ford and Dorothy Butler followed with 9 and 8 points to their credit, respectively. Gabel was high point for St. Mary's, sinking 8 points.

The Eaglettes' next game will be with Claude in the grade school gymnasium Friday night. Saturday night they journey to Dalhart to meet a strong sextette. The following Monday they will be hostesses to Dalhart in a return game.

Homemakers Plan Schedule Of Activities for Semester

Canyon High's homemaking classes I, II and III have a well planned schedule ahead of them this semester, according to Mrs. Perry Bell, instructor.

The homemaking III class is starting the new semester with a study of advanced nutrition followed by a unit on "Food for entertainment." Interior decoration, a big unit to be studied by this class includes housing, room arrangement, color and schemes, types of furniture, and table appointments. Three field trips will highlight this unit. They include a trip to Thompson's Hardware Store to study construction and types of furniture and table appointments, a trip to various furniture stores in Amarillo for the same purpose, and tours of several new homes in Canyon. "Marriage and its responsibilities" and "mother and infant care," with a visit to the hospital nursery are the last two units of the year for homemaking III girls.

Kitchen and kitchen equipment will be the beginning division of the homemaking II classes. This unit will consist of learning how to make kitchens convenient and attractive, and a tour of various kitchens over town and they also plan to see demonstrations of some large kitchen equipment down town. The homemaking II girls will also take a course on planning and preparing dinners followed by home nursing.

There are two classes of homemaking I which will begin similar units on grooming and manners to improve their personal and public appearances. A course on clothing construction, in which the girls will make a simple cotton dress in class, will be followed by a study of how to care for emergencies and minor illnesses in the home. This will end the year for the first year classes.

An unusual project of the semester will be the joint preparation of food for the Sweetheart Banquet by the homemaking II and III classes.

Color Slides Show Purposes of FHA

FHA purposes highlighted last week's Homemaking club meeting. Mable Graham and Donna Erwin showed colored slides, giving the aims of the department as provided by the State Department, while Donna narrated the eight purposes which are:

1. To promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking.
2. To emphasize the importance of worthy home membership.
3. To encourage democracy in home and community life.
4. To work for good home and family life for all.
5. To promote international good will.
6. To foster the edvelopment of creative leadership in the home and community life.
7. To provide wholesome individual and group recreation.
8. To further interest in home economics.

The FHA Sweetheart banquet was also discussed and each girl wrote her choice on a piece of paper for prince charming. Votes were counted by Mable Graham and Betty Erwin; who it is, will be revealed at the banquet. The date of the banquet has been changed to February 12.

Second and third year Home Ec. girls will plan and prepare the food. Program chairman is June Jennings, for decoration, Katie Purlow, and for favors and centerpieces, Mary Ruth Hill.

Senior Class Plans Invitation Orders

Presenting Mr. Ray Schultz as senior co-sponsor, choosing graduation invitations, and selecting a committee to read possibilities for the senior play were the highlights of the senior class meeting held Tuesday, January 25, in Mrs. A. K. Knott's room.

Mr. Wooten presented Mr. Ray Schultz, bookkeeping and typing teacher as senior co-sponsor to work with the senior sponsor, Mrs. A. K. Knott.

A representative from the Southern Engraving Co. brought samples of invitations, and the class voted for a pattern, provided an eagle can be put on the front cover. With the invitations the students will also order name cards and a memory book.

Donald Davis, president, appointed a committee consisting of Anna Bell McCarty, Mary Sue Foster, Betty Ann Erwin, Gerald McDuff, and Willis Parsons to pick four plays to submit for the class' vote at their next meeting.

Society Sue

Hey, Joe Abbott has a new red and blue plaid shirt.

Have you noticed those thick bandages adorning Gerald McDuff's head? I hope that is not the latest fad.

That was a diller of a cute green side zip shirt Albert Craig was sporting Friday.

In fact, there were several FFA shirts walking around CHS last week. Say, do they allow girls in that organization, boys? All the girls would like to have a shirt and be in style.

That gray dress of Carlene Rodgers', and the purple one of Jenine Scott's, were real knock-outs. No wonder Jenine is the best dressed girl in CHS!

Gray skirts were quite the rage last week. Anita Kersey's gaberline and Katie Purlow's wool were simply "cute as a bug's ear"

Coveralls are betting to be quite the thing. Richmond Payne looks very homish in his, especially with the plaid shirt, too.

Juanita Prichard wears a softly tailored lavender dress which is very flattering.

A misty white blouse highlighted Barbara Glanton's attire last week. Just the right setting for a blond.

Antonio Hernandez enhances her looks with a setting of the plaid dress which she wears now and then.

And that dashing ski sweater of Carol Wilson's! Just to look at it, makes one wish he were up and away on snow-clad hills.

Eight Buses Did Not Make Return Trip Home Friday

Since the weather was so bad last Friday afternoon, several buses did not make the return trip, carrying students home.

Buses remaining in town were: Jewell, Zita, Stone, Trigg, Palo Duro, Tierra Blanca, Ralph, and Garrison. These buses have long and hazardous routes during stormy weather. Several buses that officials felt could make a safe journey home without endangering lives and health made the return trip.

"We school officials, as well as the parents of the students who were stranded in town, wish to express our thanks to the town people who so kindly took the students in," states Superintendent E. A. Wooten.

Max Bellah, of the University of Texas, at Austin, and Marvin Fite, of West Texas State, visited in Canyon High, Friday afternoon. They are both '48 graduates of CHS. Max was home for a few days between semesters.

It only happens every day so come early and don't miss it.

You want to know what's happening? The classes from the Seventh and eighth grades of Canyon Public School last Friday.

The moving pictures showed the party first in Yellowstone Park before the geyser, Old Faithful. The hotel and the falls of the Yellowstone River were also part of that film strip.

The pictures of the Alcan Highway portrayed the great snow capped ranges of Canada along with its vast forests, swift rivers, and its lakes, teeming with fish.

Fairbanks is Headquarters

The party stopped at Fairbanks as their headquarters, and from there made side trips to Circle and to Anchorage. From there they flew to Katzebue, an Eskimo village, reputed to have the farthest restaurant north. This village is above the Arctic Circle. As the group flew, their route took them by the Russian Island named Klomedes, "a barren desolate looking piece of land," declared Ed, Junior. The drying of great amounts of salmon for the winter use of the Eskimos, and the excess to be sold or traded, was of interest to the students who saw the pictures.

The camera caught wild animals in their native haunts; especially the elk and the bear. The Alaskan Huskies posed very well.

From the plane window the camera showed all the lowlands of Alaska covered with water from the melting snows of the mountains. Students are divided on their opinions as to whether the picture of the glaciers or the sun shining above the clouds is the prettier.

Scenic Shore-Line

The Harrell party took the boat back to the States at Valdez, Alaska, and sailed along the scenic shore line of Alaska and Canada to Seattle, Washington. From there they visited parts of California, chief of which was the Redwood forests. The pictures of these giants are almost beyond the imagination of Plains-reared students.

"The students have learned much from the travelogue," says Mr. J. E. Miller, principal. "The students, the teachers, and I wish to thank Mrs. Harrell and Ed for the delightful lesson."

'Chanters' Present Musical Program

Chanting their music into the ears of the Canyon High School student body, the McMurray College "Chanters," under the direction of Mrs. T. S. Sullivan Wylie, presented a program in the high school auditorium last Friday.

Music by the choir included "Street Song," "The Swan" and "The Sleigh." A quartet harmonized on "Wait for the Wagon." Other numbers were a solo, "Deep River" and a duet by the accompanists, "Friendship."

"We were glad to have the McMurray group with us and shall always look forward to a program from them in the future," announced Mr. Miller, at the end of their musical program.

Paige Carruth and Dick Barrett, ex-students of Canyon High, visited here Friday. Paige is now attending West Texas State College. He attended A&M College the first semester.

Automatic Thermostats Aid Quality of Heating Plant

Automatic thermostats will be installed in the radiators of the Canyon Public Schools in February. These will allow the proper amount of steam to condense in the radiators to control the heat automatically.

"These devices will aid greatly in the efficiency of our new heating system," states Superintendent E. A. Wooten.

KEEP GOOD COMPANY

A person is often judged by the company he keeps! And is judged, also, by the books he reads and how many!

Too many students have too little interest in books. They check out the simplest books with the fewest pages, and then keep them out too long.

When it comes time for the book to be in, the student will come in and declare he has already checked the book in. Finally the librarian goes down to the locker room and goes through the lockers and most of the time she finds the books.

Students, why can't we take more pride in our library, and bring in those books at the proper date and time.

Rotarians Urged

Will in the World

Rev. A. B. Haynes spoke Tuesday at the Rotary luncheon on the question, "Is the world getting better or worse?" The speaker said that he had always taken the position that the world was definitely better today than in the past in spite of present conditions.

"What can Rotarians do as individuals? Live so that other men will abide by the Golden Rule," was his answer. Rotarians must DO instead of talk about doing good. Some of the prevailing handicaps of goodwill are prejudices, crookedness, smutty stories, drinking.

Every nation in the world is interested in world peace. The kind of influence that we exert is by the reports that we send out, and whether we live as we preach. The children of both France and Germany have been taught to hate each other since the war of 1870.

Rotary is doing a notable service for international peace by sending out students to other lands who will learn to understand other people and to carry the message of friendship.

The Marshall Plan is devised to help those nations who are seeking to help themselves—to build back together.

Mr. Haynes stated that thousands of copies of the Rotarian, official magazine of Rotary International, goes to libraries in other lands so that other people may read of America.

Dr. J. A. Hill presented the 20 Year Attendance pin to Allen Farlow, who has kept a perfect attendance record since the Canyon Rotary Club was organized.

Visitors were: Dr. C. R. Nester and J. R. Sharp of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Counter of Brighton, Colo.; Arch Hunsley of Amarillo.

J. L. Duflet Are

Guest speakers at the January 20 meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, which met in the High School Cafeteria, were Dr. Leta Boswell and Mr. J. L. Duflet of the West Texas State faculty. The program was "Homes in the light of the Health of the Family." Dr. Boswell's subject was "Physical Health" and Mr. Duflet talked on "Mental Health." Mrs. Lee Foster, program chairman, directed a question and answer session.

The Canyon High School Chorus sang a group of songs.

On February 17 at 7:30 p. m. in the High School Cafeteria, Parent-Teachers Association will hear a program on "Home Democracy, Unit for World Peace." Fathers are also urged to attend this meeting.

Mr. Sam Choy of Plainview and Dr. James P. Cornette will be guest speakers and a social hour will follow the program.

New Pontiac
Being Reviewed

T. S. Stevenson, Jr. and Elwood Shero of the Stevenson Pontias returned to Canyon last Wednesday after attending a dealers' preview of the new 1949 Pontiac Silver Streaks in Oklahoma City, Okla.

More than 150 dealers from this area saw the new cars for the first time and attended a day-long sales meeting conducted by Dan O'Madigan, Jr., Assistant General Sales Manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Mr. O'Madigan revealed to dealers that the 1949 Pontiac Silver Streaks feature two completely new and distinct lines of cars. Entirely new to Pontiac is the Chieftain line, which is functional in design and of the notch or bustle back type.

Its companion is the new Streamliner series, an up-to-date version of the slant or fast back type made popular by Pontiac. Both body styles are mounted on a 120-inch wheel base. The former Torpedo series has been discontinued.

Pontiac will make 10 body styles for 1949 and, with the exception of the convertible (Deluxe only) and the swank new sedan delivery (Standard only), all will be available with either standard or deluxe equipment.

Pontiac production for 1948 totaled 245,500 cars, the division's third best year. Mr. O'Madigan said he expected 1949 production to exceed this figure, but was unable to estimate the percentage of increase.

The new Pontiac is now on display.

Still a Castle in the Air

once were alien to it.

The essence of Mr. Truman's position is that it is the duty of the government both to protect the individual against the exigencies of life through more old-age security, higher minimum wages, compulsory health insurance, etc., and to provide certain commodities and services which formerly were within the realm of private enterprise, such as public power, government steel plants and housing. Further, he believes that government should take a directing hand in almost all matters affecting the economy, on the theory that it can maintain employment and prevent depressions.

To this extent, the Truman program flows with the tides of recent history—it does not go so far as the Labor party has in England, but it is geared to the same kind of philosophies. The opposition has two main points: first, from the economic point of view can such a program be successful; second, what would such a program do to the moral fiber of the people and our representative form of government? William Henry Chamberlain put the case for the dissenters when he wrote: " . . . Nothing could overcome the stagnation, the permanent recession that would be the result of substituting statism as a main force in production."

Neither those who like the program nor those who dislike it should regard its major points as separate, dissociated things. Its importance lies in its cumulative effect.

MEAT

Signs that the nation's appetite for meat may be slipping back toward prewar levels are seen by the Agriculture Department which reports that consumers were spending only about six per cent of their income for meat by the end of 1948, nearly one per cent less than they were spending six months earlier. Meat bills averaged 6.3 per cent of incomes in 1947, compared with around 5.5 per cent in the late thirties.

'48 HOUSING

About 930,000 housing units were placed under construction in 1948, almost topping the 937,000 units started in 1925, according to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Costs rose in 1948, but only by eight per cent—compared with the 34 per cent rise in 1947.

Rubber Dollars Hit Industries and Individuals

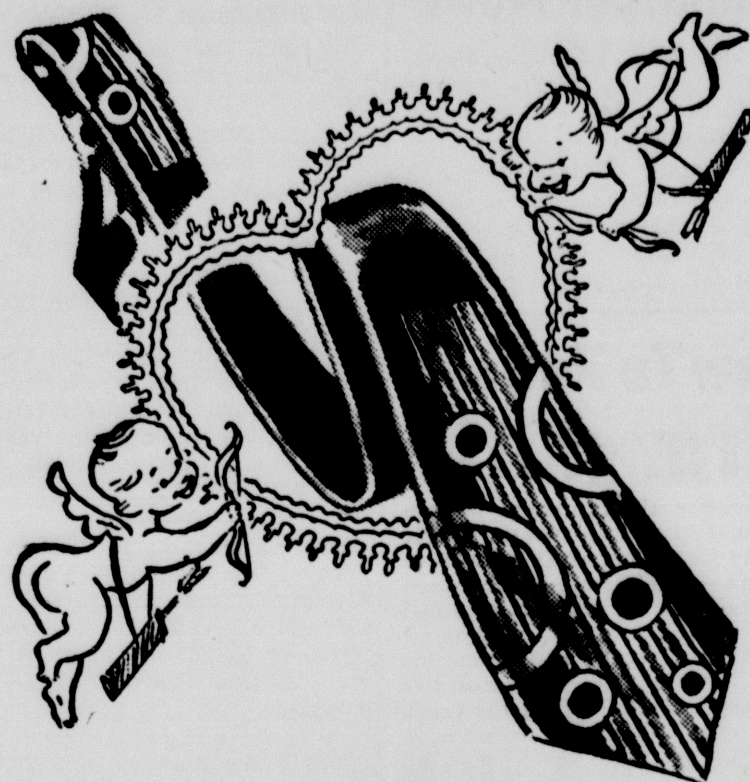

One of the most intelligent comments on prices and profits yet made has come from Philip W. Porter, writing in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

He said: " . . . Politicians smart in the ways of public relations have widely sold the idea that if a business raises prices, it's an outrage to the consumer, and if it cuts prices, it's a plot to prevent the paying of higher wages. Under this theory, business never government, always takes the rap.

"Take the matter of profits, which . . . are at an all-time peak. Wages, costs and turn-over are also at an all-time peak. The basic reason is that the rubber dollar is now worth 50 cents, and it takes twice as many dollars to operate. Employees believe that twice as many rubber dollars for wages is O. K., but do they admit the stockholders should also receive twice as many rubber dollars? Not so you could notice it. Yet that's the real answer. The percentage of profit to the amount of business done is about the same as when the dollar was worth 100 cents."

One of the weakest arguments used by economists for the CIO and other labor groups is that wages can be raised without raising prices simply by making up the difference out of profits. What that would mean is that the pay of the stockholder would be cut. Profit, in the form of dividends, is what the stockholder gets for the use of his money—precisely as the worker gets a return, in the form of wages, for the use of his time and his skill. Both are absolutely vital to a free and progressive economic system.

Going on, the argument that good profits rob workers, consumers, or any other group, is one of the weakest conceivable theories. Today, a very large part of the profit earned by industry goes, not to stockholders, but into new plants and other physical facilities. And it is those plants which will provide employment, at good wages, to workers in the future—and it is those plants which will provide goods and services the people want, and produce them at the most reasonable possible price. Suppose, for instance, that we taxed profits 100 per cent. How long do you think it would be before an economic depression, with soaring unemployment, dropping living standard, and all the other manifestations of bad times, would get a firm grip on the country?

This nation was built on good wages for workers and good profits for owners. It's just another example of truism that what's good for the goose is good for the gander.

President Truman Proposes to Run the Government and Carry Out All of Promises Made During Campaign

Comment on Mr. Truman's legislative program and proposed budget runs the gamut from complete approval to unqualified disapproval. Those who hoped or feared that the President would conveniently forget many of the pledges he made during the campaign no longer have any doubts—so far as he is able, he will carry them out to the last comma. It is clear that he intends, if possible, to cement much more power in his hands than he had before, when he was President only because of the accident of his predecessor's death. As an example, it is widely believed that the appointment of Dean Acheson means that Mr. Truman will be his own Secretary of State, as President Roosevelt was. Mr. Truman will establish the policies, and Mr. Acheson, an able administrator, will carry them out. General Marshall, by contrast, made policy on his own hook.

The President's program is largely noncontroversial so far as defense and foreign aid provisions go, except as to details which do not affect the broad principles. So it is the domestic program which occupies the center of the stage. Most people, regardless of which side they stand on, seem agreed that the program marks a new effort to direct American life into channels which

Headlines Tell of Tragic Cost Nation's Fires

Is fire prevention worth the effort? Don't answer that question offhand—give it some thought first. Here, to aid your thinking, are a few headlines, taken verbatim from papers in various parts of the country: "Three Children Killed in Brooklyn Fire; Found Clapsed in One Another's Arms." "Family of Seven Dies in Burning Home." "Fire Kills Farm Mother and Six of 10 Children." "Fire Kills Two Babies as Stove Overturns." "Woman Revives, Finds Four in Family Suffocated."

A list of such gruesome headlines could be extended indefinitely. In the course of an average year, fire kills over 10,000 people in this country. It permanently disfigures many more. It maims others for life. And its toll is especially great among young children, who don't know what to do when fire strikes and there's no one about to help them. When it comes to economic waste, fire makes appalling records. Direct money loss runs to $700,000,000 a year and more. And the indirect waste, which cannot be exactly figured, is estimated at two to three times that sum. And no one can measure the human problems which arise when fire costs a man his home or his job.

Where will the next headline telling of death and destruction by fire originate? It may be a thousand miles away—it may be in the next town—it may be in your home. Now decide whether fire prevention is worth the effort.

Dental Health To Be Observed In Texas February 7

Observance of the first National Children's Dental Health Day on February 7th has been approved and commended to Texans by an Official Memorandum signed by Governor Beauford H. Jester.

The dental health of children is of prime importance to their general well-being, and Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that every child should be under the regular care of a competent dentist from the time he is thirty months of age.

"Much can be done in the way of tooth decay prevention by dentists of today," Dr. Cox said, "and studies are under way at present which may lead to still further advances in the control of dental cares. Two Texas cities with almost identical flourine content in their city water supplies are being used in one experiment. Sodium fluoride is being added to the supply of one city, and the results of the reduction of dental cares checked against that of the city whose water supply is not treated.

"This experiment has been in progress only 29 months and it is too early to establish a positive evaluation, but the results checked so far have demonstrated a decided tendency to caries reduction in the city

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

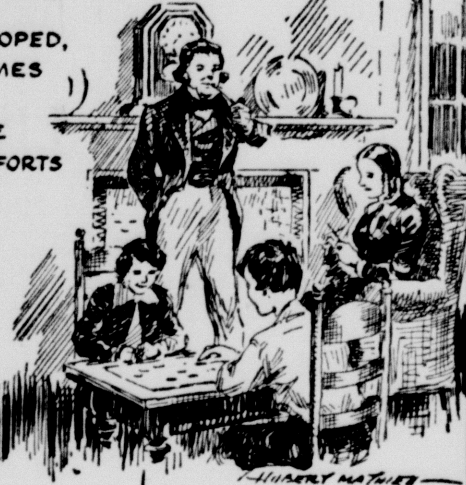

GOOD CIRCUMSTANCES—

EACH GENERATION IN AMERICA HAS HAD ITS OWN MEASURE OF WHAT CONSTITUTES "GOOD CIRCUMSTANCES."

IN THE PIONEER DAYS OF OUR COUNTRY, A MAN WAS IN GOOD CIRCUMSTANCES IF HE HAD, FOR HIS FAMILY, A HOME IN A LOCATION SECURE FROM ATTACK—A PIECE OF LAND AND A HORSE WITH WHICH TO WORK IT.

LATER ON, AS AMERICA DEVELOPED, AND THE SECURITY OF ITS HOMES BECAME ESTABLISHED, "GOOD CIRCUMSTANCES" CAME TO EMBRACE MORE HOME COMFORTS AND CONVENIENCES—GLASS WINDOW PANES, FRANKLIN STOVES, CHINA DISHES—MORE SUBSTANTIAL TOOLS TO WORK WITH.

BUT THROUGHOUT OUR HISTORY THE CONCEPT OF "GOOD CIRCUMSTANCES" HAS CENTERED AROUND THE HOME AND FAMILY. IT HAS EMBRACED THE OPPORTUNITY TO PROVIDE THE SUBSTANCE OF LIVING, TO NURTURE THE BONDS OF LOVE AND AFFECTION AND TO PLAN CONFIDENTLY TOWARD THE FAMILY'S FUTURE WELL-BEING.

where sodium fluoride is added to their drinking water."

Early training of children in good dental hygiene will materially aid them in keeping their teeth and gums in good condition, and their regular visits to the dentist will enable him to make any corrections as soon as they are needed.

WOMEN

Records of the armed services reveal that more than 7,000 women are on active duty with all branches of the armed forces, with more than 6,000 women in the enlisted personnel either in the regular services or in the active reserves.

JOBLESS-BENEFITS

Claims for unemployment compensation have been increasing steadily every week since October, according to the Bureau of Employment Security, which reports that, although this means the number of jobless is increasing, the situation is far from alarming. They point out that the total number of unemployed is only 2,000,000 and there are nearly 60,000,000 civilians gainfully employed. About 33,000,000 of these are eligible to receive unemployment checks if they are laid off.
